

Beyond the Leash Terms and Conditions

For Basic Training, a minimum deposit of $200 is due upon accepting these terms and conditions. For Doggy Boot Camp, a minimum deposit of $500 is due upon accepting these terms and conditions, and will hold a reservation in the calendar. Deposits are not refundable for any reason. Accounts must be paid in full upon drop-off of the dog(s), or at the first training session. Unless other arrangements are made prior to drop-off or the first training session, Customer gives Beyond the Leash authorization to use the credit card on file to pay the account balance. There is a service charge of $75 for any check returned by the bank for non-sufficient funds and for reversed credit card charges. Same-day class cancellations and no-shows may also be charged a $50 service fee at the discretion of the trainer.

WAIVER and RELEASE (please read carefully):

I assume all responsibility for the actions of my dog. I am responsible for injury to other people, other dogs and/or property damage that may occur as a result of my dog's actions.

I agree to follow the program and all instructions exactly as presented. I understand that failure to do so may result in less than optimum results. I agree that Beyond the Leash has the right to reproduce the likeness of my dog(s) in any and all advertising.

I understand that both group classes and doggy boot camp include outdoor training. I am aware that during much of the year the possibility of my dog encountering fleas and/or ticks is likely and a normal circumstance of dog ownership. I agree to treat my dog with the flea/tick treatment of my choice upon entering boot camp.

I understand that if a remote collar is being used, it is not to be worn overnight. I hereby certify that I will read the collar instructions as provided by the manufacturer and agree to follow the manufacturer's guidelines. I will keep the transmitter out of the reach of small children and will not allow untrained adults to use the remote collar without supervision.

I understand that if my dog shows signs of aggression, I will provide and use a muzzle during all training sessions. I understand that while aggression can be managed, there is no guarantee that aggression will ever disappear completely. I understand that it is the dog owner's responsibility to muzzle the dog and keep the dog out of potential problem situations AT ALL TIMES, not just during training sessions.

I understand that there will be no refunds on any training package. I understand that all packages expire 6 months from the date of accepting these terms and conditions.
